

Prosecution Nears End Of Watergate Cover-up Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 6½ weeks of hearing 26 witnesses and more than 20 hours of White House tapes, the prosecution in the Watergate coverup trial is ready to rest its case.

Four final prosecution witnesses, including former White House aide Egil "Bud" Krogh, are scheduled to testify today before the defense begins its case, probably on Monday.

In White House tapes presented Thursday, former President Richard

M. Nixon was heard at least five times expressing worry that former White House counsel John W. Dean III may have secretly carried a tape recorder under his armpit during a March 21, 1973 meeting. Dean and Nixon talked at that meeting about paying money to the original Watergate defendants.

Concerned because Dean had begun cooperating with Watergate investigators in early April 1973, Nixon asked coverup defendant H.R. Haldeman on the evening of April 25 if there was any way Dean "might have walked in there (to the White House Oval Office) with a recorder on him?" Haldeman dismisses the likelihood, but Nixon persists in examining the possibility because he was curious about what Dean may have told prosecutors about the March 21 discussion of $1 million in potential hush money requirements.

Nixon presses Haldeman on how a tape recorder might be hidden and not be seen.

"I'd think that it's a little, it's, it's, even the smallest ones are bulky enough that you mean, with a fellow like Dean you'd sort of see that, wouldn't you? Where do you carry them, in your hip pocket or your breast pocket?"

Haldeman: "Oh, under your arm, you know, where they carry a pistol holster or something."

Nixon, who had earlier described a possible Dean tape recording as "a real bomb," went on to speculate how Dean's word would stand up against that of a president's.

Haldeman said if Dean had only his own records of the March 21 meeting to rely on, "there's no check."

Nixon: "Oh well, on that we'll destroy him (Dean)."

On another of the four tapes heard by the jury Thursday, Nixon speculates, "I just wonder if the son-of-a-bitch had a recorder on him. I didn't notice any but I wasn't looking."

Haldeman guesses in that conversation again that Dean carried no secret recorder, if only because the former White House counsel had no reason to believe that Nixon would say, as he did, that money for the original seven Watergate defendants could easily be raised.

"He had no thought that you were going to say anything like this," said Haldeman, who had just listened to the March 21 tape and was giving Nixon an account of the meeting.

Pentagon Cuts 11,600

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today announced a coast-to-coast reshuffling and reduction of military bases and headquarters that will eliminate about 11,600 civilian jobs and transfer 11,500 Army and Air Force personnel over the next 2½ years.

The moves are aimed chiefly at shifting about $300 million a year from support functions to increased combat capability. The uniformed personnel will be switched to combat and combat-related assignments.

The 110 "base realignment actions," as the Pentagon called them, will affect dozens of installations.

But only two major bases were ordered closed — the Army's Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia and Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Tex.

One congressional source said about half of the civilian employees offered transfers could be expected to quit their defense jobs rather than relocate.

Many Army, Air Force and Defense Supply Agency depots, laboratories and offices will lose manpower and womanpower, but some will gain.

Net losses will range from about 2,000 civilian jobs at the Frankford Arsenal to as few as a dozen in some small offices, officials said.

Beside the Frankford Arsenal, the biggest losers will be Ellington, Pueblo

Army Depot, Colo.; Blue Grass Army Depot, Lexington, Ky.; Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y.; and Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base near Kansas City, Mo. Officials said civilian jobs will be reduced by a net of at least 1,000 at each base.

The Navy is unaffected in this first significant round of base reductions since April 1973.

Advance word of the base cuts already has brought worried delegations to Washington. There always is opposition to base reductions, but concern appears sharper this time because of the nation's economic troubles.

To alleviate the problem, the Pentagon pledged that "every effort will be made to assist displaced civilian employees in obtaining other acceptable employment" in the federal government or private industry. Many career employees will be eligible for up to a year of severance pay.

In any event, many of the installations will not start to feel the effects until next summer and some of the actions will not be completed until mid-1977.

Cutbacks Of Ohio Air Bases 'Appear Well Thought Out'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, says changes planned at two Air Force bases in Ohio "appear to be well thought out to achieve greatest economy and improved management."

Shifts in personnel, equipment and facilities at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton and Rickenbacker Air Force Base near Columbus were disclosed by Taft Thursday.

The moves are part of nationwide cutback and relocation plans the Defense Department was expected to announce today.

Taft said a bombardment wing will be deactivated at Wright-Patterson to provide space for consolidation there of Air Force System Command laboratories and Flight Test and Aircraft Modification Resources. The action will result in a net reduction of 525 military personnel and an increase of 685 civilian manpower authorizations.

"This should result in personnel and payroll increases in the Dayton area as well as economies and efficiencies for the Air Force," Taft said.

Plans to shift tanker operations from regular to Air National Guard units at Rickenbacker, Taft said, is a move he has long supported.

That move will result in a decrease of 495 active military personnel at Rickenbacker.

At Wright-Patterson, the 17th Bombardment Wing of the Strategic Air Command will be inactivated, with its B-52 and KC-135 aircraft transferred to other locations during the next year.

Air Force Systems Command flight test aircraft at Elgin AFB in Florida and Edwards AFB in California will be consolidated with similar resources at Wright-Patterson.

The Air Force Avionics Laboratory, Air Force Materials Laboratory, Air Force Flight Dynamics Laboratory and Air Force Aero-Propulsion Laboratory will be consolidated into a single organization at Wright-Patterson.

Major activities and functions of the Rome Air Development Center at Griffiss AFB in New York will be relocated at Wright-Patterson.

The Defense Department says consolidation of like-type flight test operations and reorganization of the Air Force laboratories will result in significant savings through reduced overhead costs, according to Taft.

At Rickenbacker, the 32nd Air Refueling Squadron will be inactivated next summer and its 15 KC-135s transferred to the Air National Guard. At the same time, the 160th Air Refueling Group will convert from KC-97 to KC-135 aircraft.

Those actions, along with the inactivation of the SAC unit at Wright-Patterson, are in accordance with the Air Force's plans to move the Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve toward increased responsiveness and combat readiness.

PCCF Reaches 92 Per Cent Of 1974 Goal

The 1974 Pickaway County Community Fund Drive officially closed Thursday, with the radio marathon, reaching 92 per cent, or $85,700, of the $93,000 goal.

COMMUNITY FUND

100 Per Cent Participation Big Bear

Beginning Sept. 16, the actual campaign was scheduled to operate for six weeks, but due to the late start of industry campaigns, it was extended three weeks.

Community Fund serves ten agencies, Red Cross, Prenatal Clinic, YMCA, Family Planning, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Senior Citizens Center, Mental Health Association and Well Child Clinic.

The eight-hour radio marathon netted $1711 in the last boost for the campaign.

Money began pouring into the bin as members of bowling teams challenged other teams, cheerleaders challenging cheerleaders, clubs versus clubs and with 100 per cent family participation. Borden Burger and Pizza Hut offered free coupons to donors.

Real inspiration was provided as members of the Circleville, Logan Elm, Teays Valley and Westfall High School music departments performed live for the listening audience. Other music was provided by Rita Huston, Holliday Parker O'Dell, New Life Singers, and the Young Life Organization.

Over 110 Circleville and Pickaway County residents helped in the last hours to attain the goal so desperately needed to keep these agencies working as a service to the community.

Dr. James River, chairman, stated that he was very pleased with the things accomplished in addition to the $1700 collected Thursday.

The working goal of $90,600 was allocated to the agency, but a contingency goal of $2,400 was added in case the 1974 campaign went over that total. The extra goal was needed to make up for the deficit of last year's goal.

River noted that while the economic situation is much worse than last year, PCCF did quite well. "The total effort of this campaign was beautiful," River stated. "If it hadn't been for the enthusiasm and cooperation of the people working for me, we couldn't have collected the total we now have."

While the drive is officially closed, there are industries still finishing with the internal campaign.

River commented that persons wishing to contribute to the campaign can do so by taking it to the YMCA, City Loan or mailing it to Box 55, c-o the Community Fund.

Solons Eye Gridiron

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — This Saturday's football game between the University of Michigan and Ohio State temporarily gripped the attention of legislators Thursday.

Rep. James O'Neill Jr., D-Saginaw, speaker pro tem of the House, told fellow legislators from the podium:

"We've had a phone call from the Ohio legislature. The Michigan state flag is flying over the House of Representatives in Ohio. They called because they needed someone to translate the Latin."

The Latin in the flag says "If you seek a pleasant peninsula, look around you."

After O'Neill spoke, the House burst into laughter.

The flag was reportedly removed from a staff at Columbus, Ohio, shortly after it was discovered flapping in the Buckeye breeze.

Rocky Clears Senate Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee voted unanimously today to recommend the approval of Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president.

The 9 to 0 vote sends the nomination to the Senate floor. The full senate is expected to vote after Congress returns from its brief Thanksgiving recess.

The Rules Committee decision came after eight weeks of investigation and hearings into the finances and public and private record of the former New York governor.

The decision became unanimous when Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., joined the majority to vote for Rockefeller.

Allen had said earlier he had not made up his mind how he would vote because he disapproved of Rockefeller's "big government, tax and spend philosophy."

Allen said that from Rockefeller's responses at the hearings he believes Rockefeller has moved philosophically toward the right in recent years.

"While I disagree with much of Gov. Rockefeller's philosophy, I realize that it would be impractical for me to expect a nominee with whose views I wholly agree," Allen said. "Therefore, acting in what I consider to be the national interest, I have voted for Gov. Rockefeller's confirmation as vice president."

Rockefeller's nomination also appears certain to win a solid recommendation from the House Judiciary Committee, despite some concern about his vast wealth.

ROUNDTOWN

WHILE avid deer hunters are traveling out of the state for good hunting, Pickaway County drivers are coming in contact with the whitetails everywhere. Five deer have been killed on the county's highways this week. Three were killed last week. The animals have been hit on Route 22 near the old children's home, Circleville-Tarlton Road, Jackson Twp. and Route 23 north.

PICKAWAY County seems to be more fortunate than most areas as far as jobs are concerned. A quick telephone pole of the major area industries showed that DuPont, Container Corporation of America, PPG Industries and RCA have not laid off any employees.

Owens-Illinois reported 40 persons have been placed on temporary layoff there, USS Chemicals report 18 employees on temporary layoff and General Electric reports 17 on temporary layoff.

Cold Winter For Some Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio homes heated with coal could be cold for Christmas.

As the nationwide coal strike approaches its third week, coal supplies and stockpiles in the state are diminishing.

A recent survey by the Columbus Dispatch of 100 retail coal dealers around the state indicated the coal home heating supply may be only enough for 28 days.

Only about three per cent, or 110,900 out of Ohio's 3.5 million homes, use coal for heating or cooking, according to estimates from the Ohio Energy Emergency Commission.

However, those homeowners, with their old-fashioned coalburning furnaces and stoves, may regret, before the winter gets colder, never having switched to oil, natural gas or electric fuels.

Smaller coal yards in the Columbus area have nearly exhausted their stockpiles. Residential customers with an inadequate supply of coal may have to find alternative sources or alternate fuels, if the coal strike continues.

Ed Foster of Foster's Coal Yard in Columbus has both good and bad news for his customers.

The bad news, of course, is the shortage. "I can't guarantee my customers anything," he said. Foster said he had only 15 tons of lump coal and 10 tons of stoker coal on hand.

Foster's Coal Yard, one of a half-dozen coal yards still doing business in Franklin County, normally has 100 to 150 tons of coal on hand.

However, Foster has some good news—an alternate fuel. "I've got plenty of cord wood," he said.

Prices for coal in Ohio coal yards now range from $6 a ton for those few customers with old long-term contracts up to $80 a ton for Kentucky "cannel" coal used primarily in fireplaces.

Most of the smaller yards in Franklin County are selling strip-mine, high-sulfur Ohio coal at $35 to $40 a ton.

The price paid by a coal purchaser is dependent upon the amount of business, the contract and the quality of coal bought.

The OEEC hopes to offer relief to residential and priority coal-users if the coal crunch gets bad. The commission is preparing coal allocation and hardship assistance programs in order to assure distribution to homes, emergency services and institutions throughout the state.

The Ohio Edison Co. had stockpiled a 75-day coal supply in advance of the miners' strike, and the supply could be stretched to 100 days through cutbacks in industrial power usage, according to a company spokesman in Akron.

The plan to stretch the supply also is based on the assumption that the company will not be required to share its coal or power with areas it normally doesn't serve, the spokesman said.

Kelly Martin, spokesman for the United Mine Workers District 6, said "all is quiet" in the state as miners await word from Washington whether they will get to vote on the present proposed contract.

Gilligan Admits Election Falsehood

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan has admitted in a private memo to aides that he resorted to distortions "if not lying outright" when he told the public no additional taxes would be necessary in the next administration.

And he said the fact that nobody believed him was a contributing factor in his defeat by Republican former Gov. James A. Rhodes in the Nov. 5 election.

The disclosures were made in a memo obtained by the Dayton Journal Herald's Columbus correspondent, Hugh McDiarmid, and published in a copyrighted story in the newspaper's Friday morning editions.

The six-page memo to nine top staffers and campaign aides was dictated by Gilligan on Nov. 10 during his six-day post-election stay in Florida but was not distributed until after he returned to Ohio.

Gilligan said the fact that he agreed to adopt a no-new-taxes stand was why he "wriggled and squirmed as the press roasted me with question after question on general revenues, educational revenues, gasoline taxes and so forth."

"That is one reason that I became in many instances defensive and querulous and furious."

The outgoing governor started out the memo by saying, "First of all, it was MY FAULT." He blames himself for falling into "the oldest of traps" for political candidates—resorting to expediency in order to win.

"I wanted to win so badly that I persuaded myself that I could run this campaign in a defensive crouch and that in fact it would be far safer to do so than to run the risk of 'losing my temper' or making some rash statement. So, in fact, I said nothing."

This posture, according to Gilligan, resulted in his being dishonest with the people.

"... What I gave them was something considerably less than the truth, and I permitted myself to be persuaded that was the course of prudence, because I was afraid the people could not handle the truth, and if I presented them with it, I would lose, and I wanted very much to win," Gilligan wrote.

Gilligan acknowledged that: "Whatever also may be said, a quick glance at the election returns indicates one fact quite clearly—I was really beat to a pulp."

He notes the unusual election results that showed he ran behind most of the rest of the Democratic slate.

"Thousands of people who voted for the Democrats running for high office declined to mark their ballots for me," he wrote.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market snapped out of a long down-trend today with a broad technical advance.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.20 to 615.77, and gainers held a 7-to-2 edge on losers at the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the upswing drew some of its inspiration from the market's generally steady response Thursday to the news of the Justice Department's antitrust suit against American Telephone & Telegraph. An added boost was provided by another cut in the prime lending rate, from 10 1/4 to 10 per cent, by New York's First National City Bank.

G.D. Searle was the most-active issue on the Big Board, down 1/2 at 15 1/2. A 190,000-share block moved at that price.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index declined .42 to 63.67.

AT&T shares were active, rebounding 1/2 to 43 1/2 from Thursday's 3-point loss.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks rose .44 to 36.64.

Houston Oil & Minerals, the Amex volume leader, was up 1/4 at 26 1/2.

Gallery Features Local Talent

GALLERY ON MAIN STREET—Local artists have formed a cooperative at 457 E. Main St. to display and sell their work. The Gallery will also serve as an educational facility where members will share their talents with children and adults of the community. Members viewing the works of local artists are, from the left, Benny Peters, Teda Theis, Maggie Farthing, and Betty Margulis.

The Gallery, 457 E. Main St., is now open and members of the non-profit cooperative are anxious for the public to see the work of all the participating local artists.

The Gallery features not only paintings, but also hand crafts and antiques.

Originating as an outlet for artists to sell, the facility also hopes to satisfy an educational purpose in the community for children and adults.

Members of the cooperative are Henix Teegardin, Maggie Farthing, Betty Margulis, Joyce McLeod, Teda Theis, Lucy Hosterman, Betty Griffith, Benny Peters, Marilyn Orr, Willie Ehrlich, Karmen Berlin, and Marsha Dumm.

Members will be staffing the Gallery during regular hours Thursday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Friday from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

The public is invited to view the works or purchase them. Future developments concerning workshops and special showings will be announced.

Police Arrest Man; Recover Stolen Items

Circleville Police charged a 21-year-old Pataskala man with grand theft after he allegedly attempted to steal about $200 worth of merchandise from stores in the Lancaster Pike Shopping Center Thursday night.

Daniel R. Edwards, 21, Route 1,

Pataskala, is in city jail under $10,000 bond. Police said he is also wanted in Columbus for forgery.

Sgt. Wes Barton was summoned by Buckeye Mart manager Pete Shelton to the store's parking lot shortly after 9 p.m. Thursday after several customers claimed they saw a man carrying items from the store.

Barton and Shelton questioned Michael Gierhart, 20, Laurelville, who was sitting in the car in which the items were apparently unloaded.

Gierhart, who was not implicated in the theft, permitted a search of the vehicle and Barton found two pairs of boots, a toy bus, and a chain saw, all from the Buckeye Mart, in the trunk.

As Barton, Sgt. Larry Pontious, and Ptl. Ron Thompson were returning to the store to find the alleged thief, they were called to the Kroger Store by customers who spotted a man running around the north side of the building.

While Ptl. Mike Eberhard and Ray Dulin were checking a field behind the shopping center for the man, Barton and Thompson went around the south side and discovered Edwards hiding in weeds.

He was also charged with taking a 14-pound ham, valued at $20.68, from the Kroger Store.

Church Briefs

Sunday morning at Salem United Methodist Church the "Sharing Four" quartet will sing during the worship service.

First Church of Christ in Christian Union will conclude its Missionary Convention with speakers in the Sunday morning and evening services. The Rev. and Mrs. David McCullough will speak at 10:30 a.m. on the schools and work on the Texas-Mexican border. The Rev. and Mrs. Leland Johnson will speak at 7:30 p.m. on work in New Guinea.

The sermon topic selected for Sunday morning at Calvary United Methodist Church is "On Being Thankful For The Right Reasons."

The sacrament of Holy Baptism will be administered at the 10 a.m. family service of Morning Prayer this Sunday at St. Philip's Episcopal Church. A Family Eucharist will be celebrated 7 p.m. Wednesday, Thanksgiving Eve.

Sunday morning at First Presbyterian Church the sermon topic will be "A Peck Of A Meal."

"Everybody Has A Gift" is the sermon theme selected for Sunday morning at Trinity Lutheran Church. A Thanksgiving Eve service will begin 7 p.m. Wednesday. Food Ingathering special music and the Offering for World Hunger will be part of the service. The Rev. Robert Pflueger from Grace Lutheran Church in Thornville will be guest minister.

Sermon topics for Sunday at Circleville Church of Christ will be "Let Your Speech Be Always With Grace" in the morning and "The Work Of The Local Church" in the evening, followed with group discussion. The sermon for the 1 p.m. program on the local radio station is "Amazing Grace."

More Layoffs Affect Ohioans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The effects of a general production slowdown, triggered primarily by sales slumps in the automobile and major appliance industries, are reverberating across Ohio, with at least 22,000 workers being hit with Christmas season layoffs.

Further dampening the state labor scene was the continuing strike by 12,000 Ohio coal miners. The walkout is expected to last at least another two weeks.

An Associated Press count shows 22,802 workers in Ohio have been notified they will be laid off immediately or by the end of the year. Two-thirds of the layoffs are in auto-related industries.

The giant Vega assembly plant and Fisher Body plant at Lordstown laid off 5,900 workers. The furloughed employees are expected to be called back to work the first week in December before the facilities shut down for the Christmas holidays Dec. 16.

The Packard Electric Division of General Motors at Warren plans to let go 1,500 of its 13,200 employees by early next year.

Chrysler furloughed almost 5,000 factory workers at its plants in Dayton, Perrysburg, Twinsburg and Fostoria.

Other layoffs include 1,104 city employees in Cleveland. Mayor Ralph Perk announced Thursday that the workers will be furloughed as a result of voter rejection of a proposed hike in the city income tax.

Container Controversy

A few years ago, when campaigns in behalf of returnable containers first became pronounced, the argument was largely an environmental one. Surveys showed that at large contributor to litter as well as solid refuse carted to dumps was glass and metal containers.

Those concerns remain in the arsenal of proponents of returnable containers, but they have found what they believe to be a new ally in the energy crunch. With shortages in both energy and raw materials, they ask, can the nation afford to be so wasteful?

Bottlers and industries allied with the container business do not accept many of the claims of the anti-throws-away lobby. Industry sources claim energy savings in returnable containers are offset by increased energy used in either recycling old containers or in reprocessing for reuse.

The debate is becoming more heated, with a growing number of municipalities taking under consideration some form of regulation or ban on disposable containers. In the middle of the controversy is the consumer, who will pay the bill regardless of which way the issue turns.

On the average, the American consumer disposes of 50 gallons of soft drinks and beer annually, with more than half of those beverages packaged in disposable containers. Container costs thus are an important part of his food budget.

Over-Seeing Larry

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Reading excerpts from Laurance Rockefeller's testimony before the Senate Rules Committee was something like listening to your eye doctor:

"I didn't have time (to do more than underwrite Victor Lasky's defamatory book on Arthur Goldberg), see . . .

"This was (a call from the FBI) a shock, you see . . .

"So that let me know something important, see . . .

"He (brother Nelson) started talking to me as though I knew all about this book, you see . . .

"I had to back them (the press) off quite a bit, you see . . .

"They wanted to know what the Governor had to say about it, see . . .

"I think one of his (Rocky adviser) mistakes was to say he didn't have time to do it, see . . .

"And, seeing I didn't have any recollection, when he called me back and said, 'Well, if you won't make the statement, then I will' and this is what is indicated happened, you see . . .

"I'll identify with that, although I surely have no further comment, see . . .

"They just went to press, you see . . .

"We wanted to apologize to Justice Goldberg, you see . . .

"But, Senator, see what was unique here, see . . .

"I assumed I would be hopefully a minority stockholder, see . . .

"This was a corporation, see . . ."

Finally, Laurance Rockefeller ruefully commented that nobody, not even the author, ever sent him a copy of the $65,000 hatchet job he sponsored.

Unsinkable Victor Lasky would be the first to say to him, "Larry, baby, you're just lucky."

Make room for Wade E. Hicks of Willard, N.C., in the inventor's hall of fame. He may not be remembered with some of the bigger shots within, such as the Wrights, Samuel F.B. Morse, Alexander Graham Bell, Tom Edison, Abe Lincoln (inflatable bags to help boats negotiate shallow water) and Hedy Lamarr (who was given a patent for a homing torpedo when she was married to Capt. Gene Markey, USN.) Mr. Hicks has obtained patent number 3,847,120 for a kind of teleprompter for stupid parrots, parakeets and myna birds.

Works like this: owner of bird dictates a taped message he wants the crazy bird to learn. Bird, who apparently has been asleep or on a sabbatical during this, flies to his swing within the cage. Two things then happen. He sees himself in mirror that is part of the patent. His weight on the swing triggers the recorded message. He thinks that the bird he sees in the mirror is a newcomer to his roost and is trying to transmit a message to him. He memorizes the message after some unspecified period of time.

One good thing about the invention, Mr. Hicks pointed out to the patent office, is that it will keep repeating the message even though the bird dies or is traded to the St. Louis Cardinals. This apparently enables the owner to memorize the message he has earlier recorded.

It's to be called Squawky Talky, the ideal Christmas gift for the Man Who Has Everything.

If you thought those football games last weekend were thrilling, turn in your 6-pack. A lot of other things were happening in sports that you probably foolishly overlooked. How about the red-raw battle between Anatoly Karpov and Viktor Korchnoi? (At this writing, Karpov holds a 3-2 edge, with three games to go.) I guess you've heard that Karpov was granted a postponement by none other than Dr. Gleb Golovanov, official physician of this contest that will eventually produce a challenger for Bobby Fischer's world chess title. To chess buffs it was bigger news than the delay in the Ali-Foreman fight because of Foreman's cut eye.

It was Karpov's third and final time out, you know. The principals spent the intermission at their respective dachas outside Moscow, alternately relaxing, girding their loins and frowning their brows.

Karpov, realizing that he may have lost his momentum, complained to the N.Y. Times expert, Robert Byrne, that he had been badly let down by his coach, grandmaster Semyon Furman, the Woody Hayes of the chess dodge.

"Furman had recommended the sacrifice of Karpov's rook for Korchnoi's bishop, thus plunging his principal into a lost ending," Byrne explained.

The same trouble Tom Landry had with George Allen on the 6-yard line in the Redskins-Cowboys game last Sunday.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Except perhaps in terms of profits, these aren't very comfortable days for big business.

The utilities are under attack from customers, ecologists, politicians and others. The automotive companies are criticized for their pricing policies and polluting ways. The biggest railroad, the Penn Central, is being operated in bankruptcy. Some airlines are in a regulatory bind.

Health insurers know all about the troubles that bigness can bring. They are in a fight, as they view it, for their very existence, a fight that if lost might reduce them to mere clerks in a national health insurance program.

Nothing crystallizes the fight that big business is in more than the government's antitrust action against American Telephone & Telegraph, a company that serves 80 per cent of Americans and which is financially more powerful than most nations of the earth.

AT&T is the symbol. It is huge almost beyond comprehension. It employs more than one million workers. Its assets exceed $67 billion. It has raised its net income every year but one since 1947, earning $2.95 billion last year.

Whether the attacks against big business today are based strictly in the legalities—in an effort, that is, to preserve the pre-eminence of law over individuals or corporations—will continue to be argued.

Most of the attacks, from wherever they originate — consumer, ecologist, elected representative — eventually take a legal form. But this doesn't disguise completely the likelihood that political motivation might lay at the base.

To attack big business today seems to be good politics. A good portion of the public feels it hasn't performed as effectively as it should in holding down prices or in serving the public. It is too noncompetitive, too burdened with its own bureaucracy, too self-serving, the critics say.

While many companies consider themselves marvels of managerial and technological efficiency, the public often has a different attitude, viewing them as dinosaurs possessed of ravenous, ruinous appetites and selfish disdain.

With prices rising throughout the world, many people wonder whatever became of the "economies of volume" they had read about in Economics 1. The utilities grow larger and so do their prices. The carmakers, giants of industry, raise their prices almost as often as sugar processors.

The giants have difficulty explaining that if they must pay billions of dollars for ecologically desirable improvements, or improve their employee fringe benefits, or pay higher raw material prices they must pass some of the cost on to customers.

Bad Times Seen Ahead

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Syndicated columnist Rowland Evans has predicted the next two years will be a "horrendous experience" for Americans.

"The next years smell like 1931 and 1932," Evans said Wednesday at a meeting of the Cincinnati Bar Association.

"I think we probably will have another oil boycott in the next six months, but we are talking about voluntarism—the last refuge of a frightened President."

Evans, part of the Evans-Novak reporting team which is syndicated in over 250 newspapers, said he was particularly worried about President Ford's inability to use and understand power.

"He'd better use it soon or we're in trouble," the columnist said.

Speculating that Ford might be suffering from what he termed a "minority" syndrome induced by long years in the underdog party in the House of Representatives, Evans said the President has yet to show any real leadership.

The Postal Reform Act, creating a government-owned postal service under the executive branch and replacing the old Post Office Dept., was signed into law by President Richard Nixon on Aug. 12, 1970.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1974. There are 39 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1963, President John Kennedy was assassinated as he rode in a motorcade in Dallas, Texas.

On this date:

In 1643, the French explorer, Robert de la Salle, was born.

In 1774, the founder of the British Empire in India, Lord Robert Clive, died.

In 1890, the late Charles de Gaulle was born in Lille, France.

In 1906, the SOS signal for ships in distress was adopted by an international convention in Berlin.

In 1943, a wartime conference was held in Cairo by President Franklin Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

In 1972, President Richard Nixon lifted a 22-year-old ban on travel to mainland China by U.S. ships and planes.

Ten years ago: Roman Catholic bishops dispersed after ten weeks of debate at the Second Vatican Council, with a promise of a greater role in forming church policy.

Five years ago: The Apollo 12 astronauts made a safe splashdown in the Pacific after making the second manned landing on the moon.

One year ago: Egyptian and Israeli generals met on the road between Cairo and Suez to grapple with the problem of disengaging their forces under a cease-fire agreement.

Today's birthdays: Songwriter Hoagy Carmichael is 75. Heiress Doris Duke is 62. Actor Robert Vaughn is 42.

Thought for today: An inability to stay quiet is one of the most conspicuous failings of mankind — Walter Bagehot, English economist and writer, 1826-1877.

Pickaway County relief grants were to be reduced about 20 per cent, according to the county relief director, due to new relief laws and failure to match county funds by the state. The reduction would not apply to amounts paid families, but was expected to mean a reduction in the number of families receiving aid.

Between 300 and 400 young folk were expected to arrive in Circleville for the ninth annual convention of the Ohio District Luther League to be held in the Lutheran Church. Ned Dresbach was president of the Circleville League.

Representatives of the city, board of education, and Circleville township accomplished very little in a meeting that attempted to solve the shortage of funds faced by the board of education for operating expenses in 1940.

Additional plans for the big Christmas celebration in Circleville were made at a meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association . . . A Christmas queen and attendants were to be selected as part of the festivities.

LAFF - A - DAY

"No, dear, the mirror just SEEMS to be getting narrower every year."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

At this time of the year, readers write me asking, "Will there be a flu epidemic this winter? Will it be severe? What about immunization? Are there different types of vaccine? Who should get it? Are there certain climates where it is more important to be immunized?"

Many other questions reveal the confusion that seems to surround this area.

Many questions stem from unnecessary fears that are introduced into the lives of the public by premature reports of impending epidemics.

Physicians all over the United States and, in fact, all over the world, constantly receive precise bulletins from the United States Public Health Service, the World Health Organization (WHO), and from local Public Health bureaus about the possibility, the extent and the severity of influenza epidemics.

In addition, bulletins are issued at regular intervals indicating new strains of the influenza virus, and how they are being incorporated into new vaccines.

Epidemiology is a highly specialized science that can, with great accuracy, predict the distribution of small and large epidemics. Their scientific predictions are very exact and determine the type of effort that will be exerted to prevent the spread of this disease.

The decision to take the new influenza vaccine is a personal one. No one can force immunization on anybody. There are some people who say, "There is no use in my taking it this year because I developed a cold last year despite my immunization."

An ordinary cold is not an attack of influenza. Therefore immunization against influenza does not necessarily protect against the ordinary common cold.

Who should be immunized with the combined vaccines of the old and the new strains of the influenza virus? The elderly, the infirm, and those with chronic debilitating illnesses should be immunized.

Many middle-aged and even young people will benefit from immunization. The ultimate decision should, of course, be by the physician who knows each of his patients' tendency to infection, their need to be protected, and to some for the psychological comfort.

In addition to immunization one can adopt a program of sufficient rest, proper nutrition, sensible exercise, and vitamin supplements to maintain a high threshold of resistance against the varied infections that come along in the winter.

About Women

By JIM BISHOP

If it appears that I am irritated, listening to Advice-to-the-Lovelorn columns read aloud at the breakfast table, it's only because I am. The words maketh my coffee taste like hot Drano and the toast assaults the taste buds like burned cardboard.

The news on page one may state that 400,000,000 persons are starving to death, but my ladies do not see it. They flip through the Women's Section (has anyone ever published a Men's Section?) to read every line of Abby and Ann and a few of the local menopausal matrons who specialize in How to Get that Man; How to Keep Him; How to Sock Him for his last dime in court.

My dissident growl evokes hysterical laughter. As a male chauvinist pig I cannot be expected to understand problems peculiar to the female. Perhaps. But my wife and four daughters must concede that I have a lot of experience in misunderstanding women.

I was moved to read the Lovesick stuff to see if I was missing a unique form of justice and logic. After 30 days, I will concede that the slick, glib, witty advice is unique. If it is related, even by animadversion, to logic and justice, then I have lost comprehension.

As the male pig, permit me to concede that all of these columns are more widely read than anything I write. A female dispenser of heart-throb counsel who is published in less than 600 newspapers isn't putting her sweet little heart into her work.

Fifty years before anyone heard the phrase, "Women's Liberation," my mother organized it. She was president and the only dues-paying member. No matter how horrifying the crime committed by any woman, Momma compressed her lips and said, "Some man drove her to it."

She would smile sadly, but bravely, as she patted my little head: "If you only know what we women go through." Now, too late, I have applied myself to the meandering words of the Sob Sisters and I think I understand what women go through:

They cheat. They lie. They fake their faces and figures with artifacts designed to gull the male. They flirt with the wrong men to keep in practice. When they are caught in acts immoral or criminal, they conjure hysteria. Failing that, they blame their husbands for their behavior and punish him by withholding the merchandise.

Miss Van Buren, Miss Landers and I have been part of a mutual admiration society for years. This column may wreck it, but truth is seldom a colored balloon; it's a rock in flight.

Landers published a letter recently in which "Uncertain Lady" said she had sustained four unsuccessful marriages and five nervous breakdowns, but now she has found a good psychiatrist and true love.

The man happens to be younger—but no matter. Uncertain Lady said she has told him "everything." His name is Ray. She has two youngsters and is expecting a third, but isn't sure that Ray is the father.

No matter. "All he wants is a chance to be by my side and give me love and emotional support." In my ignorance, I would suggest that she send the new knucklehead to her old psychiatrist. Miss Landers says: "Grab him."

Forget the fact that you are a four-time loser. And who cares which of how many men may be the father of the baby. "Grab him." I read it twice. My women voted 4-to-0 that the counsel was wise and logical. Poor "Uncertain Lady" deserved a break.

I lose hard. By listening, I found that problems concerning a man, or lack thereof, are not part of the game; they're the whole thing. Only through a man can a woman find love, marriage, respect, security, a car, a fur coat, and a chance to lie on the couch all afternoon nibbling chocolates and reading Cosmopolitan magazine.

When my wife phones her girl friends, she lights a cigarette and draws up a chair. Does she discuss Kissinger, Nixon or the potential millionaires who play football for the Dolphins? The hell she does. It's the love life—or lack of it—of a third woman.

My girls crouch on a bed for 40 minutes, whispering into a phone with a girl they saw in class an hour ago. They draw blueprints of everybody's love life—what girl should stop seeing what fellow; which one is depressed because nobody asked her to the prom; how to hold a one-handed driver off in an automobile.

Sometimes, they even feel "vibes," whatever the hell that is. I had a notion that when you marry the girl, the struggle is over. To the contrary, it has just begun. If anything awful happens in this family, remember Momma was right: I drove her to it . . .

They'll Do It Every Time

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Candidate For "Heel Of The Year"

DEAR ABBY: I would like to nominate my ex-husband for "Heel of the Year." I divorced him 15 years ago, so he could marry another woman. At the time we had a five-year-old son and a three-year-old daughter.

After the first year he forgot all about child support. I had a good job, so I never hounded him.

Last year, our son enlisted in the Air Force. Five months later he was killed in a training accident.

Abby, that boy saw his father maybe a dozen times in the last 15 years. His father never remembered his son on his birthday or Christmas either.

Guess who showed up at our son's funeral? His father! Now for the unbelievable part: my ex-husband had to be at the funeral that he was "entitled" to half our son's G.I. insurance. (The insurance was made out to me.) I told him where to go, and he said he plans to sue me. And he probably will.

Have you ever heard anything to equal that?

SHOCKED IN CHICAGO

DEAR SHOCKED: No. But if any of my readers have, they'll probably let me know. Does anyone care to nominate a candidate for "Heel of the Year?"

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his wife are secretly married. My husband and I stood up for them. Brother is 31, and Ellen (made up name) is 27.

Brother and Ellen do not live together. She lives with her parents and he has his own apartment.

Ellen has not yet told her parents that she is married, and she has given my brother orders not to give away the secret. I think she's ashamed of him, which really upsets me because he is a super guy.

They finally told my parents. Abby, they've been married a year. Last week my parents had a little anniversary celebration party for them.

Her folks weren't invited because they still haven't been told about the marriage. It was all so one-sided and weird.

I cannot understand why Ellen won't tell her folks. Neither she nor brother has been married before, there is no racial or religious conflict and my brother doesn't have two heads. In fact he is very handsome. What do you make of this?

"B" IN SAN MATEO

DEAR "B": I don't know Ellen's reason for keeping her marriage a secret, but whatever it is, it's not your problem. It's hers and your brother's.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you because although I am on good terms with my doctor and have known him for years I am ashamed to ask him this question.

Ten years ago my husband died. Last year I fell in love again, and the gentlemen is five years younger than I am. I am 83.

For the last 30 years I have had no menstruation, having had my menopause completed at age 53. Can you please tell me if there is any possibility of my becoming pregnant now? I am in good health and do not look anywhere near my age. (I'm told I look about 60.) Do not use my name or location please.

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: No danger.

DEAR ABBY: What can you do for a guy whose new wife suddenly gets hung up on country and western music to the point where she won't listen to any other kind? She knows I hate it. Every radio in the house is tuned to those hillbilly singers. I've been going down to the corner tavern to hear some decent music on the jukebox.

LASSOED

DEAR LASSOED: Get yourself a pair of pick-toed boots, jeans, a yoked shirt, a roll-brim hat, and do-si-do and away you go!

On Books And Activities At The Library

Are you a collector? Mrs. Ray Davis has a fascinating collection of buttons. She will be sharing some of the history of her collection with us in a program at the Pickaway Library on Nov. 26 at 1:30. Stop by and discover what pleasure can be derived from collecting things and then browse through our books and periodicals to get you started on a collection of your own.

We've added a new periodical to our shelf. It's the Schwann Record and Tape Guide. This should be of particular interest to record and tape users. It's a monthly publication and is a comprehensive reference guide to recorded music. For the latest in available recordings and tapes, be sure to check this new addition to our magazine rack.

People with an interest in vehicles have a group of new books available. Car buffs will enjoy comparing "Vintage Cars" by Cyril Posthumus and "Racing Cars" by Peter Roberts.

Do-it-yourself mechanics will find "Pinto Service" and "Volkswagen Service" useful repair handbooks. If motorcycles are your favorite mode of transportation, "Chilton's Motorcycle Repair Manual" should keep your machine running smoothly.

"Basic Tailoring" is the latest in the Time-Life Art of Sewing Series. These are excellent books for accomplished seamstresses as well as beginners.

The Family Circle "Guide To Beauty" by Mary Milo is a self-help for hair, face, and figure. It's not too early to shape up for the exciting holidays ahead.

"Christmas-Time Cook Book" from Better Homes and Gardens is a delight to behold! It includes some good ideas for Thanksgiving, too. The section on centerpieces and decorations has some very interesting suggestions.

"The Real America" by Ben J. Wattenberg relies on an incredible bank of data to put forth a surprising examination of the state of the Union. It's a heartening picture that takes issue with what the author calls our Failure and Guilt Complex.

Potpourri, sachets, and pomanders make interesting and inexpensive gifts. "The Herbalist" by Joseph E. Meyer has information and recipes for making such things.

"The Killer Angels" by Michael Shaara is a novel about the four days of Gettysburg. While it is fiction, the author's attention to historical detail makes it a novel that carries its reader into that famous battle with the men who fought it.

Eleventh century Italy and the daughter of a Norman baron are the ingredients of "Great Maria" by Cecelia Holland. It's the story of the fight for power and unification.

Michael Gilbert has written a novel dealing with government lawlessness and public attitudes toward law. Set in England, "Flash Point" is a Harper suspense novel.

"McAuslan In The Rough" by George M. Fraser is his latest comic novel about the men of a Scottish Regiment.

A new novel by Morris West, "Harlequin" is a thriller exploring the wholesalers of violence. International criminals, computers, and electronics enter into the plot.

When you're looking for ideas to help you have the best possible holiday season, we hope you'll make the Library your headquarters. We have books and magazines to help you with any problem. Come in and let us show you around.

Clear tonight. Lows in the mid and upper 30s. Partly cloudy Saturday. Highs in the upper 50s and low 60s. Probability of precipitation near zero tonight and 10 per cent Saturday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fall storm that battered Ohio Wednesday and Thursday finally moved off the New England coast Thursday night, allowing winds to drop to more normal levels.

A weak high pressure ridge dominated the weather today, with sunshine expected to spread from the west parts of the state to the east as clouds dissipate.

But a new fall storm was forecast to develop in the lee of the Rockies tonight and affect Ohio late Saturday or Sunday. Temperatures will warm through Saturday, with highs reaching the 50s and low 60s.

O-I Supervisor Completes Training Course

Richard L. Ferrell, maintenance supervisor, Owens-Illinois, Inc., completed the Unit I course Friday Nov. 22 in Wittenberg University's Management Development Program.

The series of five-day on-campus courses are designed to strengthen the management competency and provide new insights into the management functions of supervisory personnel in industry.

The courses concentrate in four areas—behavioral studies and motivation, communications and leadership, management functions and methods, and economics and personnel relations.

During the past 23 years more than 800 different companies representing a wide variety of industrial, commercial and medical concerns have released over 15,000 supervisors from their normal responsibilities and sponsored their participation in the management program.

Transit Proposals Flood To Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bus propelled by passengers pumping on a set of pedals.

Put commuters into capsules and shoot them onto passing trains. Cushions on top of the trains would soften the landings.

A string of electromagnets to propel vehicles.

How do these ideas grab you as solutions to the mass transit problem?

They are among more than 12,000 responses to a nationwide advertising campaign by Atlantic Richfield Co. of Los Angeles, asking for ideas on public transportation.

Annual District Convention Conducted By Pythian Sisters In Knights Of Pythias Temple

Mrs. Ross Contizano, grand chief, Pythian Sisters of the Grand Jurisdiction of Ohio, made her official visit and held a School of Instruction when members from several parts of the state met at the Knights of Pythias Temple in Circleville, for the 28th Annual Convention of District 2, Pythian Sisters.

One hundred thirty members and guests were registered for the sessions. Mrs. William Graham, district deputy grand chief, District 2, and a member of Sterling Temple, Mt. Sterling, was in charge of arrangements and presided at the opening of both afternoon and evening sessions.

Mrs. James Ullman, of Majors Temple, opened the meeting with prayer. A welcome was extended to all visitors by Frank Woodward, past grand chancellor, Knights of Pythias, Grand Domain of Ohio, and also a member of Philos Lodge and Majors Temple. Mrs. Charles Wenzel, grand senior, Pythian Sisters, and a member of Hesperian Temple, Cleveland, responded for the visitors.

Mrs. Wilbur Alkire, Mrs. John Reed, Mrs. Barbara Rickman and Mrs. Ruth McCafferty, Members of Cypress Temple, Stoutsville, presented a fitting and impressive memorial service for all members of the district deceased during the past year. The charter was then draped in ritualistic manner by

Christmas Luncheon Planned By Class

Dorcas Class of Calvary United Methodist Church met recently in the church basement for a meeting followed with a carry-in noon luncheon. The Rev. Roy Osborn, guest for the day, said a prayer. The birthday of Francis Davis was celebrated with a cake and gift from members of the class.

Annette Lape led devotions with prayer, the 67th Psalm and a Thanksgiving prayer. The door prize brought by Hazel Cline was won by Erma Iles.

The Christmas meeting will be a noon carry-in luncheon on Dec. 5th at the home of Erma Iles, 350 Logan St. Members are to bring a gift to exchange.

Legion Auxiliary Schedules Speaker

Unit 134, American Legion Auxiliary, will have a special guest speaker for its 8 p.m. Monday meeting at the Post Home, Mrs. Delno Olaker.

Mrs. Olaker is Seventh District president and a member of Joseph Hoffman Post 757 Chillicothe.

Mrs. Harry Betz To Host Class

Mrs. Harry Betz, 105 Reber Ave., will host the 7:30 p.m., Tuesday meeting of Trailmakers Class, Calvary United Methodist Church. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Vera Leist.

Each member is to invite a guest or inactive member to attend.

If you haven't kept maple syrup in a cool dry place, it may be fermented. The fermentage, however, does not spoil the syrup; to restore it to its normal flavor, heat it to the boiling point and skim. Turn into a jar, cover tightly and refrigerate.

Mrs. Clifford Vance, Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. Robert Smallwood, Mrs. Aileen Griffith and Miss Katherine Mead, members of Majors Temple.

For the exemplification of the installation of officers, Mrs. Oral Storts of Red Rose Temple, Canal Winchester, served as the installing grand officer; Mrs. Archie Bigerton, also of Red Rose Temple was installing grand manager, and Mrs. W. E. Reichelderfer, Majors Temple was installing grand senior and Mrs. Dorothy Cook of Ashville Temple was installing grand secretary.

Mrs. Alma Kraft, Amanda Temple, was the musician for the afternoon session; Miss Mary Lee Baum, grand royal sentinel, Pythian Sunshine Girls of Ohio, and a member of Capitol City Council, Columbus, was present during the afternoon session.

Following Mrs. Contizano's remarks and the adjournment of the afternoon session, members enjoyed a delicious dinner served by women of Community United Methodist Church.

The officers of Majors Temple opened the evening session in ritualistic form. Mrs. Vance, most excellent chief of Majors Temple presided and welcomed the following guests: Mrs. Contizano, Mrs. Wenzel, Mrs. Ed Emde, Mrs. Louis Manning, Mrs. Storts, Mrs. George Woessner, Mrs. Paul Jewell, Mrs. Grant Thomas, Mrs. George Thompson.

Mrs. Lindell Peterson, Mrs. Everett Peters, Mrs. Russell Goeblicher, Mrs. Reichelderfer, Mr. Frank Hudson, Mr. Woodward, John Reed, Walden Reichelderfer.

The following District deputy grand chiefs were present: Mrs. Edna Wright, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Sharon Yowler, Mrs. Evelyn Frickert, Mrs. Thelma Campbell, Mrs. Anne Broud and Mrs. Beulah Howell. Visiting most excellent chiefs and past district deputies were also recognized.

Temples in the district that were represented were: Red Rose, Ashville, Harrisburg, Amanda, Stoutsville, Mt. Sterling, Adelphi and Majors.

Officers and staff of Majors Temple exemplified the correct procedure for balloting. Officers from different temples throughout the district assumed the various stations for the initiation of three Sisters and one Knight who were received into the order. Mrs. Della Wertman, Majors Temple and Mrs. Mary Riddle, Sterling Temple, served as musicians during the evening session.

The staff of Sterling Temple with Mrs. Ethel Freeman as captain and the staff of Majors Temple with Walden Reichelderfer as captain, assisted in the initiation. Mrs. William H. Bosworth was appointed district secretary for the convention and Mrs. Gerald Winfough, district treasurer. Miss Elma Rains and Mrs. Reichelderfer were named to the reception committee and Mrs. Lowell Toland, Mrs. Ernest Young and Mrs. Roger Jury comprised the registration committee.

Mrs. Milton Griest had charge of reservations for the dinner. Serving on the ways and means committee were: Mrs. Goldie Lindsey, Mrs. Robert Hettinger, Miss Mary Clark, and Mrs. Marvin Dumm. Mrs. Gladys Rush, Mrs. Gail Stanley, and Mrs. Reed submitted the resolutions.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by Mrs. James Osborne, chairman; Miss Marie Wilkin; Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. William Hall and Mrs. Griffith.

Amanda Temple, extended an invitation for the 1975 District Convention to be held in Amanda.

Miller Sees UMW Approval Of Pact If Items Changed

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller said Thursday he thinks the union's 120,000 bituminous coal miners will ratify a proposed contract if a few changes can be made during renewed negotiations with coal producers.

"It's the very best contract that's ever been negotiated in the labor movement," Miller said, although the 39-member UMW Bargaining Council recommended it undergo "some minor adjustments" before being submitted to striking miners for ratification.

The chief negotiator for the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, Guy Farmer, said the operators do not intend to reopen the talks, but Miller said he hasn't been officially informed of that decision.

While not rejecting the contract outright, the Bargaining Council's decision to withhold it from member ratification still means the nationwide strike will probably continue into a fourth week. Miller said areas needing revision include vacations, jurisdiction, work rules and a wage package.

Miller added that some miners

Julian Bond May Enter 1976 Race

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Georgia state legislator Julian Bond says he is seriously considering seeking the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

The 34-year-old Bond, who will take a seat in the Georgia Senate in January, told newsmen Thursday at the University of Dayton:

"Before I make an announcement I want to check both the financial aspects of a presidential campaign and how much support I can raise."

"So, between now and next spring, I want to find the answers to those questions. If the answers are positive, then I guess I'll run."

Bond said he is not interested in running for the U.S. Senate or Congress.

"If I can't have the presidency, there's nothing else for me. It's the White House or nothing," Bond said.

Bond has served eight years in the Georgia house and won election to the state senate this year. Bond was nominated for vice president in 1968 but withdrew because of his age.

Bond said President Ford had made some position changes for the administration other than those held by former President Richard M. Nixon. He cited as examples, a meeting with the Congressional black caucus soon after becoming president.

"Ford spent so much time in the House, that he understands the need for meetings," Bond said, evaluating Ford's effectiveness.

"There could be a substantial change if he would act on some of the proposals offered him."

"I hope this next 100 days in office will be more effective," Bond said.

Veterans Questions Answered

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week, the Circleville Herald publishes a series of questions and answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. Any Veteran desiring further information on any question presented in this column, or having any question concerning his Veterans Administration Benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer in the basement of the Pickaway County Court House.

(Q) My August VA compensation check for a 30 per cent peacetime service connected disability was for the same amount as my buddy's for a 30 per cent wartime disability. In the past his checks have always been larger. How come we received the same amount in August?

(A) Congress equalized the peacetime and wartime rates effective with the checks mailed by VA in August.

(Q) I am enrolled in a GI Bill correspondence course. VA says that if my entitlement runs out before I complete the course, the period of entitlement will be extended to the end of the course or for the additional amount of instruction that $616 will provide, whichever is less. How do they arrive at the $616 amount?

(A) The monthly allowance rate of $220 is divided by 30 to determine the daily rate, which is then multiplied by 84 days (12 weeks) and raised to the even dollar.

(Q) I was awarded the Silver Star medal for action as an Army officer in Korea. Since retiring, I've learned that in some instances holders of that medal are entitled to an increase in retirement pay. Can I qualify for the increase?

(A) No. The increase of 10 per cent in retired pay goes only to those who retired in enlisted status after having been awarded certain decorations.

(Q) After being discharged from service as a commissioned Army officer during a 1963 RIF, I re-entered the service as an enlisted man to complete my 20 years for retirement. Three-fourths of the readjustment pay I had received has to be paid back out of retirement pay when I retire. Will they take the whole amount before I receive any retired pay? Do I have to pay income tax on the forfeited amount?

(A) You will receive no retirement checks until the entire amount due has been recovered. The amount not received is not considered income for tax purposes.

(Q) My daughter Receives VA dependents' educational assistance because of the service connected death of my husband. She plans to marry in January. Will that affect her monthly allowance payment?

(A) Your daughters marriage will have no effect on her education benefits. A widow's remarriage under the same program, however, would result in termination of benefits, unless the remarriage ended in death or divorce.

Bible Said Source Of Integrity, Ideals

NEW YORK (AP)—President Ford and a cross-country lineup of congressmen, governors, mayors, businessmen and religious leaders are heading a drive to boost the Bible as a basic source of integrity and idealism. "This year we need the good book in a very bad way," says the theme for the campaign, the annual interfaith observance of National Bible Week from this Sunday, Nov. 24, through Dec. 1. In the eight-day period, specific passages are recommended for reading each day. Also, a blitz of public service advertisements and broadcast spots have gone out for use during the week. As honorary chairman of the effort, Ford issued a message commending it and declaring his own "special regard for Scriptures as a unifying source of wisdom and inspiration."

He said "greater knowledge, use and understanding" of the Bible can be a "strong force for good in our daily lives," and added: "Bible reading has been a tradition in my family for as long as I can remember."

The President, an Episcopalian, cited his favorite verses, Proverbs 3: 5-6: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

He said he has made that passage "my daily prayer." It also was the passage on which he took his oath of office.

Special proclamations for the Bible-reading observance are being issued by more than 400 mayors and 35 governors, most of whom already have done so.

The week is sponsored by the Laymen's National Bible Committee, a New York-based organization of Protestant, Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox and Jewish laity.

Cooperating are agencies of the U.S. Catholic Conference, the National Council of Churches, the Greek Orthodox archdiocese, a Jewish com-

Plain Dealer

Talks Continue

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Representatives of the Plain Dealer and the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild continued negotiations into the early hours this morning as they tried to work out an agreement to end the 22-day-old strike.

The two sides met with a federal mediator until late afternoon Thursday. Then guild negotiators left for an executive committee meeting before returning for the evening session.

There was no word on what progress was being made.

The guild cut its demands Wednesday but said at that time the company rejected an offer to settle for a two-year contract which the union said would be within the economic pattern set by the Plain Dealer in a 30-month agreement with the Teamsters.

No-Lick Stamp

Undergoes Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — A postage stamp that you don't have to lick is being tested on a limited basis by the U.S. Postal Service.

The stamps, which have a pressure-sensitive adhesive, first went on sale Nov. 16 in five postal districts: Boston, Chicago, Salt Lake City, Tampa, Fla., and the Allegheny District of Pittsburgh.

The operational tests of the new precanceled dove-of-peace Christmas stamp will run through the holiday mailing season.

Traditions

It must seem strange to people in other lands that we regard the turkey with so much affection. But that old gobbler stands for a great deal.

He evokes to most of us the triumph at Plymouth, when the faith of the Pilgrims sustained them against overwhelming odds. His wild forefathers were a star attraction at that first Thanksgiving dinner. Thanks were given to God for a harvest that meant the continuance of life itself.

Turkeys are a tradition in America, a symbol. Like many symbols, they are easy to understand once you know the full story about them.

There are many symbols and customs in the Church too, and sometimes they may seem strange. Yet they also become easily understandable once we have studied them.

The Church today is one of the world's greatest sources of history. But it is moving along with history—for even while the old customs are maintained, there are changes and new interpretations to keep pace with our changing world.

Keep pace with the Church.

High Prices Hit CHS Cafeteria

CHS COOKS—Four familiar faces at CHS belong to those ladies who provide the service in the lunchroom. Shown left to right are the four high school cooks, Mrs. Mary White, Mrs. Anna Allen, Mrs. Mary Ann Strawser, Mrs. Audrey Greeno and Mrs. Eloise Starkey.

By LEIGH HRTZ

High food costs are affecting everyone, even the head cook at Circleville High School, Mrs. Mary White.

Mrs. White, who has been a cook for nine years, stated that these high costs have caused the cooks to cut down on baking, especially pies, and she said that fruit has doubled in price.

Mrs. White cooks for approximately 275-300 students each day for Type A lunch and 200 or so on a la carte. She explained that numbers depend largely on what is being served that day.

When asked her opinion of open lunch, Mrs. White stated, "Students asked for and got the a la carte line. I try to have things at the extra table that you would buy if you had open lunch."

The most popular foods that are prepared for lunch are pizza, spaghetti, and fish, Mrs. White said. But, if a student would like to make a suggestion for food to be served on the a la carte line, he should give it to Mrs. White. The suggestion will be considered if the food can be served within the kitchen's price range.

Mrs. White commented, "Most of the students at Circleville High School are well mannered. We enjoy those students. CHS students have a wonderful school here, enjoy it."

Helping Mrs. White with the work in the kitchen are Mrs. Eloise Starkey, Mrs. Audrey Greeno, Mrs. Anna Allen, and Mrs. Mary Ann Strawser.

In her spare time, Mrs. White said she enjoys fishing with friends, gardening, and being with her grandchildren.

New Student Admires CHS Spirit

TOM MEENA

By BILL GATES

"Circleville is much smaller but has more spirit than Marion," said Tom Meena, comparing CHS to the school he attended last year.

Tom is a new junior at CHS. He and his family moved here from Marion, Ind. this summer.

His major interests are bowling and Young Life, a new Christian youth group.

He now resides at 682 Fairlawn Drive with his parents, Nicholas and Phyllis, and his two brothers.

After graduation Tom said he plans to attend college and major in mathematics.

Junior High Has New Music Instructor

MRS. GERTRUDE YOUNG

By CATHY ROUITT

A new face seen at the junior high and elementary schools is that of Mrs. Gertrude Young, vocal and instrumental music teacher.

Mrs. Young lives in Lancaster with her husband, who is the director of the Fairfield Union High School Band. She graduated with a bachelor of music degree from Ohio University, where she played flute in several music groups.

The instructor said she enjoys sewing, swimming, bicycling, playing tennis and participating in any activities involving music. She is a member of the Lancaster Music Club

Girls Elected To Try For Citizenship Award

By MELINDA SEYMOUR

Elected to try out for the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award were seniors Mary Horst and Barbara Painter. Mrs. Doris Gillespie, CHS guidance counselor, announced the election of the two girls on Nov. 12.

Mary stated that she was surprised and honored to be chosen to try out for the award. She resides at Route 2, and is active in the English Merit Society, National Honor Society, Girls Athletic Association, and Red and Black staff. She serves as secretary of the senior class and projects chairman for Service Over Self Club.

BARBARA PAINTER AND MARY HORST

Barbara stated that she was "amazed," and said she suddenly remembered how much she didn't know about government. She resides at 1010 Lynwood Ave. She is active as the first chair flute in band, pianist for the triple trio, and stage band member. She belongs to Future Secretaries of America, EMS, and NHS. She serves as vice-president of the senior class.

The two girls took a test last Friday over American and Ohio history as well as government. The girl having the highest mark will go on to try out for the state and national honors.

People in charge of the DAR award are Mrs. John A. Stevenson, chairman for Pickaway County, and Mrs. Shelby J. Edwards, State Chairman. The award is sponsored by the Pickaway County DAR chapter.

Winner of the award last year was Susan Marshall, who competed against Cheryl North.

Mrs. Gillespie said the award has been given since 1965 when she came to CHS.

Jordanian Chief Quits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Premier Zaid Rifai of Jordan resigned today as part of King Hussein's program to reduce the influence of the West Bank Palestinians in Jordan, a government spokesman in Amman reported.

Hussein was expected to dissolve parliament within 24 hours. Palestinians from the former Jordanian territory west of the Jordan river held half the 20 posts in Rifai's cabinet and half the seats in parliament.

The king is reducing their representation because the Arab summit conference in Rabat last month recognized the Palestine Liberation Organization as the government of a future Palestinian state on the West Bank and Hussein abandoned Jordan's claim to the territory, which it lost to Israel in the 1967 war.

Across the river, Israeli authorities expelled five Arabs from the West Bank on charges of instigating the riots and demonstrations that swept the territory in the past week.

Military sources said border police took them from their homes after midnight and rushed them to the Lebanese border for expulsion.

Two FSA Members Try For Scholarship

By LIBBY GOELLER

Two members of the CHS Future Secretaries Association will be competing for a $2,000 scholarship granted by the National Secretaries Association Research and Educational Foundation.

To qualify for this international Scholarship, the student must be a member of FSA and either a high school senior planning to enroll in a school offering degrees in secretarial fields or already a student in such a school.

There will be one winner from each FSA chapter based upon the scores from a test which must be given by Feb. 15, 1975.

This exam consists of shorthand transcription, questions covering matters pertinent to the secretarial field, and an interview in which three questions related to the secretarial field are asked.

The winner of each chapter enters the division contest and writes an essay on a political quote given them. These essays are judged on a point system, and the writer of the essay with the most points advances to district competition.

There are five districts, and each has one winner, based on the number of points received on the essay. Then, the one student with the most points is awarded the $2,000 scholarship. The four others receive $500 scholarships.

The winners will be notified by May 15, and the one receiving the $2,000 will be invited to the International Convention held in July.

Ohio Remap Plan Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan endorsed today a proposal that the Democratic State Executive Committee discuss possible reapportionment of Ohio Congressional districts when it meets Monday.

The new Democratic majority in the Senate will be seated the first week of January while Gilligan is still in office which, coupled with Democratic control of the House, would enable the party to rush a reapportionment bill through the General Assembly.

"I think it ought to be done," Gilligan said in an interview. The governor said Republicans had succeeded in a similar effort in 1965 following the Democratic landslide when Lyndon B. Johnson was elected president.

As a result, Gilligan said, "We have the worst gerrymandered state in the union right now." He emphasized that Democrats would have to work closely together to get the bill through in the week before Republican Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes takes office. If all goes smoothly, Gilligan said, "I think we can do it."

Republicans maintained their 15-8 edge in Ohio Congressional districts on Nov. 5, despite broad Democratic gains in the General Assembly.

Social Security Course Offered

The U.S. Social Security System will be the emphasis of a four hour credit course at Ohio University-Lancaster during the Winter Quarter.

The course will cover programs, policies, and problems related to prevention and alleviation of economic insecurity in the United States. Special emphasis will be placed on social insurance and public assistance programs with evaluation of proposals for change.

Further information about the Social Work 290 and registration details may be obtained by contacting the Registration Office at the branch. Call 654-6800.

Mass Transit Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has culminated a twoyear effort to provide federal operating subsidies for urban mass transit systems by sending a subsidy bill to President Ford, whose signature is assured.

The House passed the $11.8 billion mass transit package Thursday by a 288-109 vote after a telegram from Ford urging passage was read in the chamber. The President called the measure "a responsible step in our efforts to reduce energy consumption and control inflation."

The Senate passed the bill earlier this week.

Eligible communities could use up to $3.9 billion of the funds provided in the bill to subsidize mass transit operating costs. The rest of the money would continue for six years the federal aid to communities buying equipment.

Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, president of the National League of Cities, called the action "a singular victory for the nation's cities."

Population and density will determine the eligibility of cities for funds. Local funds would have to match federal funds on a 50-50 basis for the operating subsidies. For the capital grants, the federal government would pay 80 per cent, the localities 20 per cent.

and the Ohio Music Educators Association.

Mrs. Young stated, "Music education includes activities and learning which develop the social aspects of life. It develops the health of the student, aids in the development of sound work habits, instills wholesome ideals of conduct, aims to good citizenship, and can improve home life. This is what I hope to accomplish."

Rams Seek Tie For Crown

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Monday night was very good to the Oakland Raiders. The Los Angeles Rams hope it'll be good to them, too. But both teams will have to be good on Sunday.

Last Sunday, the Raiders defeated San Diego 17-10 to clinch at least a tie for the American Conference's West Division title, then locked it up outright when the runner-up Denver Broncos lost to visiting Kansas City on Monday night.

Now it's the Rams' chance. They can clinch a tie for the National Conference West title with a victory over the Minnesota Vikings. And if they get past that first big hurdle, they can lock it up if the runner-up New Orleans Saints lose to visiting Pittsburgh on Monday night.

In Sunday's other National Football League games, it's St. Louis at the New York Giants, Philadelphia at Washington, Dallas at Houston, Miami at the New York Jets, Buffalo at Cleveland, New England at Baltimore, Cincinnati at Kansas City, San Diego at Green Bay, Chicago at Detroit, Denver at Oakland and Atlanta at San Francisco.

The Rams won't be the only team on the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum turf with visions of titles dancing in their heads. The Vikings, too, can lock up a crown of their own, in the NFC's Central Division, and they can do it Sunday — but they need a lot more help. It'll take a Minnesota victory and losses by the Packers and Lions to sew it up.

The Rams and Vikes own identical 8-3 records — just as they owned identical 6-0 records when they met in 1973. "It's going to be interesting, just like last year," says Minnesota Coach

Brant.

Grant would no doubt like the outcome to be the same as a year ago. The Vikings stayed unbeaten, edging Los Angeles 10-9, and ran their perfect string to nine in a row before losing to Atlanta.

"We haven't played against James Harris before," Grant said of the Rams' quarterback. "But from what we've seen, he certainly has a strong arm."

The Vikes have one, too, of course, in Fran Tarkenton, the No. 5 passer in the NFC just behind Harris. But both teams will probably rely more on strong legs.

The Rams have Lawrence McCutcheon, the league's rushing leader with 887 yards. He's also caught 26 passes for 278 yards, bringing his total yardage for the year to 1,165. The Vikes have Chuck Foreman, No. 3 in the NFC with 667. And Foreman has caught 39 passes for 455 yards, bringing his total yardage to 1,122.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, are in a dogfight in the NFC East, leading Washington by one game. The Cards are seven-point favorites to beat the Giants — but New York has always been a tough team for them, having won 46 of the 64 games they've played.

The Redskins, hoping to extend Philadelphia's nosedive to six games, are coming off a hard-fought 28-21 victory over Dallas, their sixth triumph in seven games, and are in a strong position to take the NFC's wild-card playoff spot.

The Cowboys are all but out of the playoff picture. If they fail to get in, it will be the first time in nine years. Houston is riding the crest of a four-game winning streak and hopes to knock off Dallas, which routed the Oilers 56-10 four years ago in the teams' only previous meeting.

The Dolphins have won five in a row, a run that has carried them to the top of the AFC East, one game ahead of Buffalo. The Jets have won their last two with Joe Namath throwing a pair of touchdowns in each. The Bills need a victory to assure themselves of staying within striking distance of Miami and at least a game ahead of new England and Cincinnati in the AFC wild-card race. The Browns are in danger of suffering their first losing season in 18 years.

The Patriots are struggling to stay in the playoff picture, having dropped three in a row. And they're facing a Baltimore squad which pulled itself together last week for its first victory in four games.

The Bengals, invading Kansas City, are in a shaky position, having lost two in a row to fall 1½ games back of first place in the AFC Central Division. John Hadl, now in a Green Bay uniform, faces his former San Diego teammates while Chargers' rookie

Don Woods faces what could have been Packers' teammates. Woods was cut by the Pack before the season began and, with San Diego, has rushed for 790 yards, fourth best in the AFC and better than anyone on Green Bay.

The Bears will try once again to score a touchdown, something they haven't done in nearly five full games. The Lions have won five of their last six to claw their way back into playoff contention.

The Broncos fell out of the playoff race with their Monday night loss, taking the steam out of their game against Oakland, whom they were expected to challenge for the AFC West title.

Marion Campbell is still looking for his first victory as coach of the Falcons, who have lost five in a row. They'll have to stop rookie quarterback Tom Owen, who passed for 313 yards and two touchdowns in the 49ers' 34-0 rout of the Bears a week ago that ended San Francisco's seven-game spin.

Cage Teams Face Early Key Games

The four area basketball squads will face stiff competition in their opening games Friday.

The big tilt will be at Teays Valley where the Vikings will battle the Braves of Logan Elm. Westfall will open SVC play at Huntington. And Circleville will entertain Bexley in a non-league encounter.

All games start at 8 p.m. Reserve contests are at 6:30.

The LE-TV county rivalry will feature the depth and experience of the Braves against the tall, veteran Vikings.

Logan Elm's new head coach Asa Bradbury has eight varsity lettermen back and players from a reserve team that went 16-2 last year.

Lettermen expected to see plenty of action are Derek Morris, Brian Barr, Scott Pontius, Mitch Martin, Matt Martin, Mike Miller, Phil Manson.

Help will come from Jeff Reichelderfer (the leading scorer on the reserve team), Steve Rawlins, Scott Allen, Neil Overman, Dave Dean, Bob Sargent, and Doug Hildenbrand.

Teays Valley's size comes from Jeff Cauer, who at 6-4 was last year's leading reserve scorer and rebounder, George Spohn, who at 6-6 was last year's backup center, 6-1 Terry Collins, 6-2 Bill Browning, 6-2 Mark

MAC Teams End '74 College Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Toledo, Bowling Green, Ohio University and Eastern Michigan wind up their 1974 college football seasons Saturday, joining the other six members that already have finished their campaigns.

Miami of Ohio, the conference champion, and new member Central Michigan, not yet eligible for the title chase, have postseason assignments, however.

Kent State, Northern Illinois, Ball State and Western Michigan all concluded their seasons last week.

Ohio University (5-5-0) tries to rebound from a 35-16 pounding at Penn State at home against rival Marshall (1-9-0). The game in Athens, Ohio, has an 11 a.m. (EST) starting time to permit fans to see the Michigan-Ohio State afternoon contest on television.

Toledo (6-4-0), at home for Eastern Michigan (3-6-1) Saturday night, is seeking its best record since the 1971 team that went undefeated, pushing the nation's longest winning streak to 35 games at that time.

Bowling Green (6-4-0) also winds up with a night game at San Diego State (7-2-0), the Pacific Coast champion for a fourth straight season.

Dave Preston, Bowling Green's tailback, needs 128 yards to break

Find Barnes Watching Billiards

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Marvin Barnes, the missing rookie center of the Spirits of St. Louis ABA team was found attending a billiard tournament in Dayton, Ohio where a spokesman said Barnes considers himself to no longer have a contract with the team.

Barnes, who missed two games, arrived in Dayton "to relax" and plans to remain at the "Tournament of Champions" billiards tournament which ends Sunday.

He missed the game Wednesday with the New York Nets at Uniondale, N.Y. Barnes, contacted by telephone, said he had "no comment."

But Marshall Boyer, who said he was speaking for the 22-year-old player but not really representing him, said "Barnes considers himself to have no contract with the St. Louis club."

Boyer and Barnes, contacted by telephone, said they "have no plans."

Boyer said "the situation is resolved. He's not playing basketball for them anymore."

"He's tired of all the promises that were not kept. He asked me to intervene."

Boyer, of Beverly Hills, Calif., said he telephoned the St. Louis management that he was coming in and that talks were held in New York with no conclusion.

Willie's Dillies

Like to start off with the Fearless Forecasts this week by predicting league basketball championships for the four high schools in Pickaway County.

Although hit hard by graduation, all the teams have players with winning attitudes and a wealth of talent.

It should be a good year for basketball in the county.

Athletic directors at the schools should be commended by players and fans alike for scheduling games on Tuesday nights.

County schools will be in action on 12 Tuesdays and 12 Saturdays this year. That has to be better than playing back-to-back games on the weekends.

A Cincinnati newspaper has tagged Bill Fowler, former Circleville High School griddier and current defensive end on the University of Cincinnati squad, "Wild" Bill and Uneasy Rider.

He got the name for riding his motorcycle to UC practices and games and for his solid hitting on the football field.

Can't understand all the noise coming from Columbus about the Ohio State — Michigan game Saturday. Both teams appear so evenly matched that it will be like playing in front of a mirror.

But Woody should be worth about two touchdowns, so we'll pick Michigan to win 21-7.

Tony Perez May Be On The Block

CINCINNATI (AP) — Veteran first baseman Tony Perez, averaging more than 100 runs batted in for the last eight seasons, may be the trade bait to solve the Cincinnati Reds' chronic problems at third base and on the pitching mound.

Bob Howsam, Reds' president and general manager, however, in characteristic fashion, is downplaying trade rumors as he prepares for baseball's winter meetings next week at New Orleans.

But Howsam admitted the Reds have received Perez' word that he won't stand in the way of any trades. As a 10-year veteran, Perez has the right to approve or refuse a trade involving him.

"I've said we don't have any plans to trade Pete Rose this year and I certainly don't see anything else in the making," said Howsam.

"But nobody's untouchable. You have to take that approach because it might take half a franchise to get what you need."

The Reds finished second to the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League West in 1974, despite their 93 victories. That would have been good enough to win any of the other three divisions in baseball.

"We're going to be very careful," said Howsam. He is reluctant to trade away the heart of a club which has won three division titles in five years but has not won a World Series.

However, Howsam said, "We've got to think of the future."

Perez has batted in an average of more than 100 runs per season in the last eight years, but he will be 33 in May. His batting average dropped from .314 in 1973 to .265 in 1974, his lowest since 1967.

The 6-foot-2 first baseman, who has a .288 career batting average, waived his 10-year trade approval clause during a meeting with Howsam shortly after the end of the season.

Howsam revealed he discussed deals with a number of other teams but nothing came of the talks.

"We're interested in a third baseman," Howsam said, "but we also think we may have the talent in our own organization. We definitely want to improve defensively," he said.

"And, we're looking for more consistent pitching."

A poor defensive showing by Dan Driessen at third, a position once held by Perez, has prompted reports that Manager Sparky Anderson would like to move Driessen to first, his normal position.

Young Viking Cagers Sweep Doubleheader

The Teays Valley seventh and eighth grade basketball teams swept a doubleheader from visiting Westfall Thursday. The seventh graders won 58-28 and the eighth graders, 41-31.

Pacing the younger Viking team was John Sanders who scored 25 points. Scott Bartholomew tallied eight, Shawn Blue hooped six, R. D. Roese and Norm Dresbach added four each, Bill Pettibone contributed three, Dean Brown, Mark Hoover, Mike Herron and Mike Osborne notched two each.

For Westfall, Sollars and Puckett scored eight points a piece, Whitten four, Bowser, Whipple, Styles and Roberts two each.

Allen Ett paced the older Vikings with a 14-point effort. Yancy Tony scored nine, Jeff Welsh seven, David Richard six, Rex Pierce three and Doug Helser two.

For the Mustang eighth graders, Starkey and Gibson scored nine each, Kern six, Schleich four, Adams two and Creamer one.

The Viking seventh and eighth graders will host Mt. Sterling 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Cloverleaf Jim Wins Feature At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP)—Cloverleaf Jim won the featured pace mile at Latonia by three lengths in 2:05 1-5 Thursday night and paid $7.60, $4.40 and $3.80.

Little Miss Ellen was second, $6.60 and $5.20 and Myra Mae, third, $4.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): If planning a trip, be sure that you don't go overboard financially. Get all schedules, costs, etc. in writing. Better plan on some "extras," too.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Venus now puts the accent on romance. You should hear directly or indirectly some highly interesting news about an old flame.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): The success of an old friend will certainly call for a celebration. Do YOUR part to make it a truly convivial one.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A short trip may bring some surprising results — even, possibly, a complete change in your present set-up.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A day in which to keep your own counsel. Otherwise, it would be only too easy to involve yourself in fruitless discussions or other communications which get you nowhere.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some surprising events indicated — perhaps a completely unexpected visit from an old friend or relative from afar.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't change plans or methods without first consulting all concerned. Study where changes ARE needed and to what degree. Press for efficiency.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Everyone has to take chances at some time or other, but this is no day for YOU to take unnecessary risks. Day dalls for cautious, conservative action.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Mixed influences. Avoid overoptimism. Too rosy an outlook could cause you to overlook small but vital details. The p.m. brings an interesting bit of news.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Let certain situations ride now. Forcing issues will do more harm than good. By demonstration, you can let others know that your ideas are practical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Consult with others before making important decisions. Your endurance may be tested, but you are used to tests — and usually pass them with flying colors.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Your thoughts finally "jell" on a project you've been contemplating. You "put it altogether," as they say, and results will prove it.

endowed with outstanding business and financial acumen and, with your gift of leadership, could reach a high level of success with a large corporation or institution. You could also excel in the law which, in your case could almost inevitably lead to a brilliant career as jurist, politician or statesman. Along creative lines, your tastes run to the literary and the musical, and your avid curiosity and interest in what's going on in the world and with its inhabitants could lead to a notable career as a journalist. You are highly intuitive and, generally speaking, should obey your hunches — which are often more reliable than is your reasoning. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

ROTARY SPEAKERS—Walt Spangler, left, and Ned Harden talked to the Rotary Club Thursday about the plans for the upcoming Bicentennial celebration. Harden presented slides of the old canal as it appeared in Circleville. He also gave a presentation of how the canals were formed, how they were financed and the important role they played in the early life of our ancestors. Harden then explained about the various activities which are being planned for the Bicentennial. In Regular Rotary business, Dave Yates was complimented for his outstanding work during Sunday's CROP walk. Bill Stout and George Hamrick will each host a foreign exchange student from New Zealand in their homes. Guests at the luncheon meeting were Doug Newcombe, Millar F. Hubbard and Charles Hickey.

Here it is, folks, Mae Litter's Chicken Salad recipe like I promised in last week's column. Cook a stewing chicken (5 or 6 pounds) until meat very tender. Add a little salt to the cooking water. After chicken is cooked remove from heat and cool until it can be handled comfortably; now remove meat from bones and then cut up meat quite fine; add one cup finely chopped celery, five tablespoons sweet pickle relish; 4 tablespoons pepper relish; 5 hard boiled eggs, chopped up. For the dressing mix together 1½ cups Miracle Whip, ½ cup milk, one tablespoon vinegar, three tablespoons sugar and a dash of salt. Pour over chicken mixture and mix well together.

Place in refrigerator until serving time. Delicious on sandwiches or scoop onto a leaf of lettuce.

Since it is so close to turkey time I can't help wondering how this same recipe would be with turkey substituted in place of the chicken.

I told you last week I was a bit "puny" or somewhat under the weather — well this week you will be treated to another short column because puny has changed to "poorly". I do not know what bug it is but it can pack up and go just any time.

There are others in the community on the ailing list, too. Mae Litter herself has been struggling with a nasty old head cold that won't give up; Ron Bush has been invaded by the virus army; his dad Gene Bush is suffering from the back miseries and Paul Whitesed's back has been giving him some problem, too.

Patty Reed is another victim of the virus war. She has been quite ill for more than a week.

David L. Adams is a patient in Room 182, Mercy Hospital, Columbus and would surely appreciate hearing from each and everyone. David underwent surgery on his spine and some of his days are very painful. Cards would help much to brighten the whole scheme of things so please send one to this young man right away.

Marching Cadettes

Under the organizational abilities and direction of Mrs. Leroy Lane (Gwinn), the Williamsport Marching Cadets formed in September of this year. The fledgling group's first parade was in the Jaycee sponsored Halloween parade at Circleville. Plans are for the unit to march in Christmas parades at Washington C.H. on Nov. 24; Circleville on Nov. 29 and Lancaster on Nov. 30.

After the last of these parades the group will take a winter hiatus and will resume regular practice sessions sometime in March in order to prepare for spring and summer and other future activities.

Members of the corps with parents names in parenthesis are: Amy, Kristi and Jay Lane (Leroy and Gwinn); Veronica Carter (Billy and Scarlett); Jerri Kaiser (Jay and Evelyn); Jerri Ratliff (Lloyd and Roxie); Patty and Fawn Fenneken (Edna Picklesimer, mother — Joe and Karen Fenneken, guardians); Kim and Kathy McCafferty (Mike and Marsha); Carla Pyle (Harold and Lynn); Kelly Picklesimer (Jim Picklesimer); Debbie Rhoads (Vernon and Helen); Melissa Johnson (Al and JoAnn); Jane Ellen Whitten (Glenn and Beverly); Brenda and Tammy Myers (David and Sheila); Keith and Patty Garrison (Bob and Iris); Renee Morgan (Roy and Gloria); Shelly Reeser (Howard and Rosalie); Debbie Boltenhouse (Larry and Daisy Mae); Debbie Rigsby (Winford and Alice); Carol Evans (Dr. and Mrs. William); Polly Neal (Bill and Judy); Susan Fox (Rodger and Joyce) and Connie Adams (Viola).

Leader Gwinn expresses a deep appreciation to all the parents, especially the mothers, for their many hours of help and co-operation. A special thank you is extended to Shana Wills, John Johnson and Jeff Lane, local teenagers, who have been quite helpful.

One of the ambitions scheduled for the re-organization in the spring is the making of new uniforms.

Gwinn commented that she was very proud of the marching corps and was quite pleased with how hard they had each worked. It is her hope that each one will be as eager to be together again in March as she will be to get together with each of them. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the unit should contact Gwinn at her home on Bluff Street or call her at 986-6623.

Community-minded persons such as Gwinn Lane who give of their time, talents and efforts to provide a diversion for our youngsters or other worthwhile endeavors are to be commended. A small village is a great place to rear children but it does suffer the drawback of not much offered for those same children to occupy active minds and bodies. So, at this time, we happily spotlight Gwinn Lane for her interest.

The "What's Happening in Williamsport" program will be on WNRE next Wednesday from 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. This is a change from the normally scheduled second and fourth Thursdays of each month. Tune in, it might be a surprise. That is, if plans proceed as expected.

Be with you again next week, be the Lord willing. Take care.

Think About: Even with unemployment, inflation, and so many uncertainties we still have much to be thankful for — we only have to dig a little deeper (this observation was made by a friend the other day and I thought it stated the situation rather well).

Kroger Co. Freezes Prices

COLUMBUS — The Kroger Co's Columbus Marketing Area announced today that it would freeze retail prices on more than 500 items for the remainder of this year through February 1, 1975, in an experimental attempt to limit inflation and stabilize spiraling food costs.

Harold P. Templeton, vice president of the Columbus Division, said this new marketing effort would affect the Kroger stores in the Circleville area. "This anti-inflationary pricing policy is the direct result of our buying and warehousing large enough quantities of those particular 500 items," Templeton said. "We have large enough inventories of those items for the next 70 days so we can promise not to raise these prices before February 1, 1975."

The items with prices frozen include selections from six grocery categories: dairy, baking, pantry, frozen foods, household needs, and health and beauty aids.

Templeton said that, even though ceilings have been placed on over 500 items, the division marketing plan would continue to feature other items and offer coupons as in the past.

"This new 70-day program is a direct response to consumer anxiety over rising food cost. What it does is make it possible for us to guarantee to shoppers that prices will not rise on more than 500 items. We will do our best to keep all of our prices down, of course, so many other prices will stay down, too," Templeton said.

"Blue shelf markers saying 'Kroger Price Freeze,' will inform the customer which items are included in the 500 selected for price freezing," Templeton said.

South Central Power Names Assistant

R. Dane Swinehart, general manager of the South Central Power Company, today announced the appointment of William Bickham as staff assistant.

WILLIAM BICKHAM

Bickham, of 1318 Wheeling Road in Lancaster, has most recently been associated with the Diocese of Columbus, working in administration and long-range planning. Prior to that he was associated with the Mid-West Fabricating Company for eight years serving as production control manager, sales manager, and assistant general manager.

A native of Columbus, he has been a Lancaster resident for the past ten years. He and his wife, Susan, have four children: John, 13, David, 10, Laura, 8, and Steven, 4.

He is a holder of a B.S.B.A. degree from Ohio State University, and a Master's Degree in Business Administration from Xavier.

Giffords Win Award For Corn Crop

Special recognition for their ability as corn growers has been given to Frank and Orville Gifford by the Producers of Funk's G-Hybrids.

Their documented 1974 yield of 140.5 bushels per acre (adjusted to No. 2 corn-15.5 per cent moisture) was made with Funk's G-4646. The yield was entered in Funk's-G Project: 200 national high-yield corn growing contest. Announcement of the award was made by Lawrence Wright of Circleville.

Project: 200 was designed to challenge growers to increase corn yields for greater productivity and profit. Yield results and the agronomic practices used to achieve them are then shared with corn growers everywhere. More than 15,000 U.S. and Canadian growers have entered Project: 200 during the past three years, making it America's most meaningful high-yield corn growing contest.

Frank and Orville Gifford's yield of 140.5 bushels per acre was produced on 2.1 acres. They planted the Project: 200 corn on April 18 in 36-inch rows at the rate of 19,800 kernels per acre. Their fertility program consisted of 59 pounds of nitrogen, 62 pounds of phosphate and 69 pounds of potash per acre.

The Giffords used a herbicide and an insecticide.

The Funk's G-4646 was harvested on October 18 when the moisture content was 20.4 per cent. Plant population was 18,500.

To qualify for Project: 200, participants harvest as shelled corn a minimum of two acres from not less than four rows running the full length of the field. Information contained in the entry was verified by a reputable, disinterested witness.

A computerized summary of Project: 200 agronomic information is made available to corn growers each year by Funk Seeds International Inc. With this information, corn growers can compare their growing methods to those used by other top producers.
